CO-OP VS. CONDO

There are a few key differences between owning a condo and owning a co-op. Owning a condo is like owning a house. Those who buy condos receive deeds and specified deeds of real estate, while those who buy co-ops maintain shares of corporations that own the buildings where there units re. Condos are typically more expensive from purchase to closing but provide more flexibility to the owner.

"I have conducted 3 real estate transactions using Josh as my broker in Manhattan. Josh is realtime with his communications which is essential when buying and selling in NYC because of how competitive the market is. I sold my apartment at full asking price faster than I expected." –N. Tristan "We chose Josh to represent us on the sale of our Flatiron Loft in 2006 and again in 2012 for the sale of our West Chelsea penthouse. Both times it was his personal dedication to showing the apartment that I think was the key to success in getting us our asking price. He even came at 9pm to show a buyer the view at night. We also recommended him to someone in our building whose apartment didn't sell after 3 or 4 months. He relisted with Josh and sold it right away. So we definitely highly recommend Josh." –A. Bartlett

He was very thorough by giving us recent sales figures and current listing details for comparables to help us make a decision, but was also willing to negotiate with us and took to heart our feelings, needs, and unique selling situation. Once we had a signed contract, Josh and his team covered every step of the process and sold our apartment swiftly and seamlessly."

–P. Murtha

"Josh was knowledgeable, sensitive to our needs and a pleasure to work with. He also has a sense of humor which I consider essential to the process. We initially met with Josh more than 8 months before we were able to put our condo on the market, due to illness in the family. Josh did not pressure us and waited until we were able to move forward. His responsiveness and that of his staff rate an A+." –J. Odes "Josh and his team are absolutely fantastic. "I hired Josh to sell my Unit and he met all expectations. He and his team are very professional and are very honest with what your apartment is worth in current market conditions. My apartment had over 51 showings in a short amount of time and after every single showing I got immediate response from Josh's team on what the buyer liked and disliked about my apartment. He also managed to get a young buyer into a building with a very strict board which im sure she is very happy about. All and All I had a wonderful experience with Josh and his Team. I highly recommend. 5 STAR TEAM!!!" – joekapinos "15 years ago, I purchased my first home -- an NYC co-op -- and met Josh Rubin as the seller's agent. It was a great introduction to home ownership, and I always knew that if I sold my place, Josh would be my agent. Flash forward to January 2020, when it became time to put that same co-op on the market. Josh and his team handled everything, beginning to end. Refreshing and staging, listing, showing and bringing in multiple offers in less than two weeks of it being on the market. I accepted an offer (11% over ask!) and then... a global pandemic lockdown order hit. Was this all going to fall to pieces?? No worries! JR and his team safely landed the plane with minimal stress and worry for me, and we closed in May. I can't thank Josh enough for his expertise, guidance and a really fantastically smooth process in unprecedented circumstances. I can't recommend the Rubin team highly enough!" -Daria D

Right from the first time I met Josh I felt like I could trust him and he would take good care of us and that feeling was 100% correct. He worked with us on setting the right price, getting the apartment staged, and was able to get an offer at asking within 10 days of going on the market. "Josh is a great case study in how to become #1 in sales volume in Manhattan:

1. He and his team maximized the positives & minimized the negatives of our property through careful cost-effective staging that allowed buyers to visualize their own style rather than be distracted by our strong design – it was no easy task to convince us of the need for this

2. He wrote succinct copy and hired the best photographers/videographers that accurately captured the strengths of the great views, unique outdoor space and house-like layout – important to attract new buyers and give remote buyers a real sense of the property

He priced the property competitively based on his knowledge of peer properties & market trends
 Whilst all the above is important, Josh is not the only realtor in NYC to have these skills. On the contrary, few if any brokers have his work ethic (nearly 20 personal showings before contract signing at 99% of asking in 13 days), his persistence – never

"As a result of working with Josh Rubin and his team, I was able to stage and sell my apartment at a strong price in a somewhat difficult market. Josh provided superb recommendations from a staging consultant to a closing attorney to a moving company. Josh, his team and all his referrals were professional, extremely knowledgeable and responsive throughout the process and were there for me every step of the way. "We utilized Josh and his team at Douglas Elliman both for sale of our Coop and the purchase of another. We received flawless service from start to finish. His assistant Lindsay was equally helpful. There can be a degree of complexity to the purchase and sale of a NYC Coop. The team did an outstanding job on both ends of the process. All calls were immediately answered. Anything that ever went to VM was answered in few minutes. Our sale was somewhat unusual in that it was a 2BR, in perfect condition but very small. Despite multiple viewings and open houses, it took a while to get an offer. We were never pressured to lower the price. We knew the value of the place and we were fully supported by Josh. We found that very valuable. All of his advice worked for us. You will do well to put yourself in his capable hands." - Joel Goldstein

"We received full ask on the first viewing in a market that was starting to slide.
